Forced Migration & The Limits of Citizenship: Puerto Ricans Crossing Diasporas

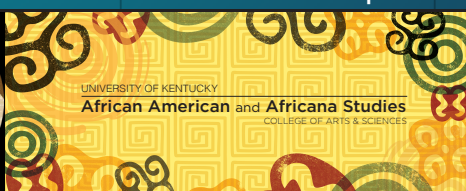

April 2, 2019 | 2-3 pm | Young Library Auditorium

Join a panel of scholars and activists (Dr. Lisa Ortiz, Yasmin Hernández, Jennifer Hinojosa) providing perspectives from Puerto Ricans who have lived and crossed to/from the Caribbean territory. The panel will talk about their work and art in relation to second-class citizenship, intersectional identities, and socioeconomic conditions of Puerto Ricans and their shifting patterns of migration to/from continental United States before and after hurricane Maria.
